

JGW GROUP ONLINE MAIL SAFETY & SECURITY TRAINING

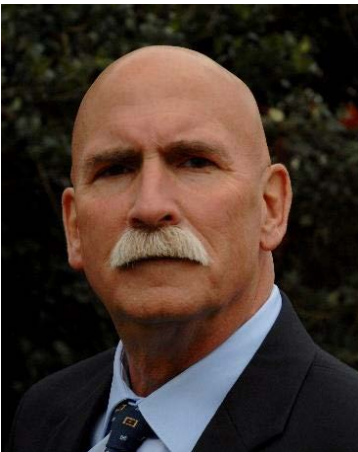

Regardless of your facility's mail screening strategy, the personnel who receive, process, and open mail or packages delivered by the postal service and commercial vendors, need to be continuously aware of potential mail borne threats, the methods your mailroom employs to detect and prevent their entry into your organization's mail stream, and the procedures they can employ to protect themselves and their colleagues if a threat does get through. JGW is pleased to announce the release of the next phase in our comprehensive mail safety and security training program, on-line training. Designed to support the needs of organizations who do not have the time or resources required to support more traditional on or off site classroom training, our cost-effective solution provides your organization with a comprehensive method to provide both initial and sustainment training for your mail center's team members, and all the employees in your organization who handle or process mail. In training is delivered in short, easy to view modules, designed to provide maximum results with minimal disruption to team member's the daily routine. In addition to the training, participants are invited to participated our bi-monthly live seminar where they can join the conversation and ask questions of subject matter experts from throughout the mail screening industry. For more information, on this, or any of our training programs, please contact the JGW training team.
